Arizona Governor and Senator Fight Over River Problem

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 27—(AP)—A fierce encounter between G. W. P. Hunt, Governor of Arizona, and State Senator Fred Colter during an argument in the state capital over the Colorado river question, gave an exciting touch yesterday to a problem which has harassed the state for years.

Arizona's intense feeling over the ultimate settlement of the Colorado River problem, in which she has battled her sister states for what she insists is a just share of water and power from proposed dams, was the subject of an argument which precipitated the clash.

Arizona's Colorado River Commission was being discussed by Senator Colter and several legislative associates when Governor Hunt appeared. Governor Hunt, who was defeated in seeking a seventh term at the November elections, became involved in the argument.

The Governor's secretary, J. W. Strode, declared afterwards that he saw his chief stagger against the wall from a blow delivered by Colter. Colter also was reported to have been struck in the face during the melee.

Police were called to the capital, but found only an excited hum of after-the-battle talk when they arrived.

BRITAIN'S KING IMPROVED SOME, HIS SON STATES

Wales Has Not Been Recalled from Africa, Official Says

London, Nov. 27—(AP)—The Press Association states that it was officially informed at St. James Palace today that the Prince of Wales has not been recalled to England as had been reported.

It was stated that the Prince was due to arrive this afternoon at Dodoma, Tanganyika, in accordance with plans made some time ago. At this point he will be on the telegraph line and on a railway and it is probable that he will stay there for a few days.

HOW REPORT STARTED

London, Nov. 27—(AP)—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Cape Town says that a cable received from Dodoma, Tanganyika, states that a code message reached the Provincial Commissioner there shortly after ten o'clock this morning and a fast motor car was sent immediately to meet the Prince of Wales who is coming in from his camp. The dispatch said it was believed the message contained instructions for the Prince to return to London.

IMPROVEMENT REPORTED

London, Nov. 27—(AP)—The Duke of York, speaking at a meeting of the British Poster Advertising Association today said:

"I am glad to be able to tell you there is a slight improvement in the King's condition this morning."

"Some of you will know what pleurisy is and how depressing it can be," continued the King's second son. "There are two things to be remembered. From the nature of the illness progress must be slow and there must be ups and downs, but progress has been made."

The announcement was received with prolonged cheering.

AN EARLIER REPORT

London, Nov. 27—(AP)—Anxiety over King George's illness was not greatly relieved this morning when his physicians issued what might be characterized as a non-committal bulletin.

The physicians, Sir Stanley Hewett and Lord Dawson of Penn, informed the public that their royal patient had passed the night more restfully and that his feverish condition had abated somewhat. The bulletin did not actually give the King's temperature and summed up everything else by stating that conditions otherwise were unchanged.

On top of the disturbing bulletins of the past few days which have indicated that the King is very sick, today's report did not tend greatly to relieve anxiety among his subjects over the eventual outcome of the attack which has now been in progress nearly a week.

Is A Severe Strain.

It was realized that the King's stamina was undergoing a severe strain owing to constant pain from pleurisy and the lack of rest and sleep that attended it.

The text of the official medical bulletin was:

"His Majesty the King has had a more restful night and the temperature is somewhat lower. The conditions are otherwise unchanged."

The doctor, arriving shortly after 9 o'clock but it was not until well towards noon that their attendance on His Majesty was concluded and the bulletin issued.

It was generally expected by medical men that the crisis in the King's illness might be reached about tomorrow or Thursday and until then no definite opinion could be formed.

USED FATHER'S SEAL TO FAKE BILLS OF SALE

Carlinville, Ill., Nov. 27—(AP)—Kenneth Roberts, son of the late A. J. Roberts, Justice of Peace at Virden was arrested here last night, charged with using his father's seal in issuing false bills of sale, for an alleged automobile theft ring operating in Macoupin and adjacent counties.

This arrest, the sixth in the last few months, resulted from investigation started last week by Roy Herring of Alton, who bought an automobile, to find later that the bill of sale provided with it was invalid. He conferred with Macoupin County authorities and last night Sheriff E. M. Stubblefield made the arrest of Roberts.

Make your selection now at Trein's Jewelry Store, and by paying a tiny deposit, the article will be held until wanted.

THE WESTERN GLEAM
BARREN stretch that slants to the salt sea's gray,
Rock-strewn, and scarred by fire, and rough with stubble.
With here and there a bold bright touch of color—
Berries and yellow leaves—
Above, a sky of trouble.

But now a light is lifted in the air;
And though the sky is shadowed, fold on fold,
By clouds that have the lightnings in their hold,
That western gleam makes all the dim earth fair—
And the gay sea gold.

Zion Household Science Club Met

The Zion Household Science club held an all day meeting Thursday at the home of Mrs. Noah Beard, with Mrs. Wells as assisting hostess. A delicious picnic dinner was served at noon. The day was spent in sewing carpet rags for the soldier boys at the Maywood hospital.

The meeting was opened by the president and all joined in singing America. The reports of the secretary and treasurer were read and approved.

A demonstration on Salads was given by Mrs. Beard. A paper of much interest on Made Over Clothing by Mrs. Olive Genz, was read.

A number of visitors were present at this meeting.

A play is to be given by the club at the Harmon Methodist church on Dec. 14, and some of the plans were discussed.

The next meeting will be a Christmas party, the place for holding it to be decided by the president and announced later.

Fri-lo-ha Class to Meet Wednesday Eve

The Fri-lo-ha class will meet Wednesday evening, Nov. 28th, at 7:30 with the teacher Mrs. Derr at 424 East River St.

Members will bring their gifts of food for distribution Thanksgiving morning.

Miss Ruth Leah has been awarded the prize for the best original class song which has been adopted by the class, and is printed below:

On Fri-lo-ha! On Fri-lo-ha!
Friendship is our cry,
Friendliness to all who join,
Will be our greatest joy.
On Fri-lo-ha! On Fri-lo-ha!
That's the class for me,
Friendly, oh, how friendly,
We will try to be.

On Fri-lo-ha! On Fri-lo-ha!
Come we all today,
Let us each love one another,
All along the way.
On Fri-lo-ha! On Fri-lo-ha!
Striving for the right,
With our faithful teacher dear,
We will win the fight.

On Fri-lo-ha! On Fri-lo-ha!
Oh, what glorious fame,
With Friendship, Love and Happiness
As our honored name.
On Fri-lo-ha! On Fri-lo-ha!
We'll try to do our best
To bring our class up to the front
With Love and Happiness.

Wimberley-Duncan Wedding Monday

Harley R. Duncan and Miss Helen A. Wimberley, both of Dix, Jefferson county, this state, were quietly married at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening at the parsonage of the First Baptist church, Rev. W. W. Marshall, pastor of that church, performing the ceremony. The young people were not attended. Mr. Duncan is employed at the Taylor Barber shop in this city and he and his bride will make their home on East Chamberlain street.

DOROTHY CHAPTER O. E. S. TO MEET FRIDAY EVENING
A special meeting of Dorothy Chapter, O. E. S., will be held at the Masonic Temple, Friday evening, at which time there will be initiation. A program and social hour will follow the business meeting of the Chapter.

ENTERTAINED AT DINNER SUNDAY EVENING
Mr. and Mrs. George Van Nuy's entertained at dinner Sunday evening.

MENU for the FAMILY

BY SISTER MARY
BREAKFAST—Apples, cereal, cream, rice, griddle cakes, syrup, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Tomato bouillon, toast sticks, spinach with hard cooking eggs, chocolate tapioca pudding, milk, tea.

DINNER—New England boiled dinner, jellied cider salad, whole wheat bread, Indian pudding, milk, coffee.

Chocolate Tapioca Pudding
Two cups milk, 4 tablespoons quick cooking tapioca, 4 tablespoons grated bitter chocolate, 1-2 cup sugar, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 eggs.

Heat milk to scalding point. Add tapioca and chocolate and stir until well blended. Cook 30 minutes over hot water. Beat eggs slightly with sugar, salt and vanilla. Add to tapioca mixture and move from heat. Turn into a buttered baking dish and bake 30 minutes in a slow oven. Serve warm or cold with or without whipped cream.

The pudding is quite rich enough for children without a sauce but a garnish of whipped cream adds to the festivity of the dish.

Following Is Most Important, If True

Our medical friends are forever seeing things—and telling them. One of them, Dr. Mulford of New Jersey, has been telling the medical society of his state that women are becoming the stronger sex, that they are living longer, and then as becomes a man of science he tells us why. He says:

Today our American women are in better physical condition than our men. They do not wear too many clothes, especially in the summer. (We have noticed that.) Their garments, light in color, permit the ultra-violet ray of the sun to give its full benefit. Men, in their dark clothes which completely cover them from neck to ankle, are denied this energy.

Women are learning how to relax. While they go wholeheartedly into an increasing number of activities, from home to politics, they realize the importance of once in a while taking a complete rest. Men do not rest, even when they are being shaved, for the barber prevents their complete peace of mind.

As women increase in physical vigor and in education, it follows as the night day, that they will increase in influence and power in every direction. But we observe that men are dressing in light colors, more and more, not only in summer but in winter. They wear near-white in winter now—hats, ties, suits and socks. Let us hope the ultra-violet ray will shed its beams on their brains as well as their bodies; and that they will learn how to rest completely, and get the benefits of entire relaxation at frequent intervals, because strong women will demand strong men.

Peoria Avenue Club's Thanksgiving Meeting

(Contributed)

The annual Thanksgiving meeting of the Peoria Avenue Reading club took place at the home of Mrs. Charles Morrison in Bluff Park Monday afternoon—a glorious November day. The sun shone and crisp air gave the atmosphere of Colonial America needed as a setting for the renewal of the old New England spirit and the thorough appreciation of the splendid program prepared for the occasion.

Members to the number of twenty, came representing many distinguished characters—George Washington in knee breeches, silver buckles and snowy hair; Miles Standish and Priscilla. A Puritan gentleman came from the chase, bringing with him two lovely pheasants, bagged only yesterday. There were dignified ladies in flowing silk garments and Spanish lace shawls; prime Puritan maidens in cap and kerchief—Mother Goose, Colonel Body (Buffalo Bill), also William Tell, with his bow and arrows, and attaché of the U. S. A. Several gypsies in colorful costumes with bangles and beads and tambourines, added greatly to the scene.

The company of ladies and gentlemen partook of a bountiful Thanksgiving feast and later enjoyed interesting games and spent the time in reminiscences. "What if life that used to be simple, has grown complex—haste replaced leisure—restless desire pushed contentment to the wall." There never was a better time in which to live than in this, our day and generation.

America Will Sit Down to Its 306th Thanksgiving Feast

The historians fail to record just what John Alden said when he ate his first Thanksgiving feast, but it is reasonably sure that he praised his hard-won Priscilla with all the breath he had left after four helpings of turkey. John was easy to please; for John had never before eaten a Thanksgiving dinner.

Our modern Johns are more critical; they and their forefathers have enjoyed and lived through 306 Thanksgiving feasts. And be glad they have, too. It is the men who most enjoy good food and it is to find the off-traveled path to their hearts that so many new and attractive recipes are formed.

Modern John wants new and delicious foods, and modern Priscilla wants them easy to prepare. It's possible to satisfy both desires, with the delicious recipes found below. Try them on your own Thanksgiving table, if you would elicit praise from your own John.

It's A Bird!
The only bird on the table needn't be a fowl. The dainty salad course may be composed of appetizing autumn fruits, set up to make an entrancing turkey-gobbler. Here is the recipe, and the direction for making it life-like:

Gobbler Fruit Salad
(1 portion)

1 strip pimento
1 pitted date
1 small piece banana
1-2 slice canned pineapple
1-2 red candied pear, quartered lengthwise or
1 red apple, unpeeled.

Place the pineapple slice on end to make the turkey's spread tail. Stand the apple in front of the pineapple. Place the section of banana (which has previously been marinated with lemon juice to prevent its turning brown) on top the apple, to form neck of turkey. On this place the pitted date, and lay on top the strip of pimento to make the "comb". Surround the gobbler with a nest of lettuce leaves, and serve with a little mayonnaise dressing.

A SNAPPY BEGINNING!
A good beginning is half the battle, and it doesn't have to mean a poor ending, in this case. If you want to rouse your guests' appetites, and yet not overfeed them before the main course arrives, serve them this cocktail, which you can mix before you can say "John Alden."

Priscilla Cocktail

Use long-stemmed sherbert glasses to add a festive air. Fill them with sections of canned grapefruit and the juice. To each serving add 1 teaspoon diced preserved ginger and 1 teaspoon ginger syrup. Sprinkle with 1 teaspoon shredded fresh-keeping cocoanut. If you want a cocktail that is less sweet, leave out the cocoanut or the syrup.

SAUCE FOR THE GOOSE

What's sauce for the goose may also be sauce for the turkey or the chicken, as well, especially if it is this new variation of our old favorite, cranberry sauce, which may be made in large batches, and used only as needed. If you are in a hurry, there is a canned cranberry sauce on the market that is made after an old Cape Cod recipe, with the berries left in. If you are not, this recipe is recommended as fit sauce for any bird, fare or fowl.

Date and Cranberry Butter

2 pkgs. (11-14 lb.) dates
1 quart cranberries
2 cups water
2 cups brown sugar.
Put the dates, or use the ready-pitted variety. Place them in a large saucepan. Examine the cranberries, rejecting the soft fruit and removing the stems; wash berries and add to dates together with the water. Simmer the mixture for 20 minutes.

Rub the cooked fruit through a sieve, add the sugar and stir over a low flame until the sugar is dissolved. Cook the mixture until it is of the consistency of thick apple sauce or apple butter. (The cooking period will be about 45 minutes.)

Fill small sterilized jars with all you do not intend to use immediately and seal. This recipe will fill 4 half-pint jars.

"THE BEST 'TIL LAST"
If you save the "best 'til last" you will like this recipe for oven-steamed Thanksgiving pudding. Even if you don't, it will top off a meal in splendid style, and leave fragrant memories behind. It's fine for the large dinner.

Thanksgiving Pudding
4 tablespoons flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1-4 cup butter or substitute
3-4 cup sugar
1 egg

BRIDGE PUZZLE

BY FABYAN MATHEY

Clubs are trumps and South has the lead. North and South must win one of the four tricks, against a perfect defense.

Lay out the cards on a table, as shown in the diagram, and study the situation. See if you can find a method of play whereby North and South can win one of the four tricks.

THE SOLUTION

Discarding, especially toward the end of a hand, is of supreme importance. In this puzzle, the necessary trick is obtained by making the only proper discard.

South leads a heart, and West wins with the ace. North, however, does not trump, but discards his lone diamond. Regardless of East's discard, East and West are now helpless. If West leads a diamond, North will trump. If West leads a trump, South will win the last trick with the ten of diamonds.

Should North trump the opening lead or discard a spade, East and West easily win all the tricks. With a spade discard from North, East discards a diamond, and West then leads the queen of diamonds. A cross-ruff of course follows.

1-2 cup milk
3 cups stale, cubed bread
2 cups (1 pkg.) dates, sliced
Sift the flour and baking powder. Cream the butter; add the sugar gradually, then the well-beaten egg and milk. Add the bread, dates and the flour and baking powder.

Pour the batter into well-greased molds. Cook tightly. Place molds in a pan containing 11-2 inches of hot water and cook this pan. Steam in a slow oven (275°F.) three hours. Yield 2 lbs. This recipe will serve 16 persons.

NIBBLE-BITS
Every holiday feast must have its "nibble-bits"—the bits of candy and other sweetmeats that we like to nibble on after the coffee has been served. A list of suggestions is offered for the sweet-tooth possessors:

Candied orange peel
Candied ginger (preserved)
Dates, stuffed with fondant, nuts, or marshmallows
Figs, pulled or pressed.
Mini patties
Peanut butter and cocoanut balls.
Sugared nuts
Fruit Turkish paste.
Apricot-date paste.

Cortright-Wainscott Marriage Announced

At home cards are being sent out to friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Wainscott of Champaign, Ill., and Cincinnati.

Mrs. Wainscott was formerly Miss Queta K. Cortright of Dixon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cortright. The marriage took place last spring, and the young people kept it a secret until the time when the bridegroom was ready to embark in business. In a short time Mr. and Mrs. Wainscott will go to Cincinnati, O., where Mr. Wainscott and his partner have a thriving business. Mr. Wainscott is a most successful accountant. The many friends of the accomplished and brilliant bride will extend to them best wishes for their happiness.

Thursday Reading Circle Entertained

The Thursday Reading Circle met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Henry Floto. Mrs. Harold Espy read the paper of the afternoon on The Life of Clara Barton and Benefits Derived from the Red Cross Work to Humanity.

A vocal duet by Mrs. Robert Anderson and Mrs. Nate Morrill was enjoyed and following this a reading was given by Mrs. Chas. Floto.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess during the social hour.

Wiseman-Liddicoat Wedding in Oregon

Forrest Wiseman of Palatine, Ill., and Mrs. Luella Liddicoat of Dixon were united in marriage at the Methodist parsonage in Oregon, Tuesday afternoon, November 20th. Mr. and Mrs. Wiseman will make their home in Dixon where Mr. Wiseman is employed as a plumber. They are now receiving the best wishes of many friends.

Gay Winter Gowns Make Season Bright

BY BETSY SCHUYLER
NEA Service Writer

New York—Even if the last of the leaves has lost its gorgeous tints, costumes make outdoor sports extremely colorful lately.

Many brilliant outfits at the last of the United Hunts at Belmont park were bluer than the sunny skies overhead. Mrs. William Thaw is one sponsor of blue who sets off the bright chanel tone quite as well as it sets her off. She wore an irregularly brimmed small hat of this tone, topping a lovely blue wrap, sable banded.

Furs in Wide Variety

At the West Hills racing meet the variety and uses to which fine fur has been put this season could not fail to make a dent on one's consciousness.

Mrs. William Deering Howe's grey kasha duvetyne coat had a scarf of snarled goatskin collaring it. Mrs. Harry Cushing, 3d, had on a gorgeously lively new blonde caracul coat cut of ample lines, and lined with good-looking striped kasha, in fawn tones that looked fine with her gorgeous hair. For an original touch, her cute scarf was made of the striped kasha that lined her coat. But Kathleen Vanderbilt always had a way of being original in her chic!

What They Wore

Katharine Todd wore a black suit, with hip-length jacket that was positively luxurious in its rich natural lynx collar and deep cuffs. Mrs. Lynx Olcott is another who prefers lynx, as a smart collar testifies that points down in the back like a cape on a lovely beige coat she wears. Fox seems to have lost its social superiority, except when it rears its lovely silvery head to fashion a collar as it does on a top-coat of tweed Mrs. C. Perry Beadstone wore to the meet.

From races to formal balls, it is noticeable that this is the dressiest year since the

SEEDS OF SOCIALISM.

Gov. Alvan T. Fuller of Massachusetts has never been classed as a radical. Indeed, it is little more than a year since the radicals and liberals of the country were denouncing him to the skies as a blind reactionary.

That, accordingly, ends interest to the fact that Governor Fuller the other day told the New England Conference of Women's Clubs that unless American politics undergoes a sweeping change, the growth of socialism in this country "will be astounding."

"If you deplore conditions in Russia today," said the governor "remember that every bit of corruption in public life is a contribution to that same socialism."

"There are abuses in public life which make for the growth of socialism. And when these are carried to a certain point they kindle fires that cannot be checked."

The Socialist party in the United States today is a negligible factor in politics. In one or two cities it carries an election now and then, but on the whole it is impotent. Yet in Europe the Socialist party plays an important part in nearly every country. It often wields a controlling influence on governmental policy.

The reason, of course, is not hard to find. Since 1914, Europe has had an extremely bitter experience, and the shortcomings of the old leaders and old policies have been shown up unsparingly. People are turning to socialism in the desperate hope that will provide some kind of remedy.

In this country we have had prosperity and happiness. There is little real discontent; socialism, consequently, remains unimportant.

But there is growing a deadly cynicism in regard to politics and politicians. People are losing their capacity for being shocked by wrongdoing. Graft, incompetence and corruption are becoming more and more common. Chicago and Philadelphia are only large-scale examples of something with which every city is, in some degree, familiar. And that is a real danger.

The soap-box orator demanding state confiscation of wealth is not a menace to our institutions. We can ignore him. But the crooked politicians—the mayor who connives at police department graft, the district attorney who shuts his eyes to glaring abuses, the city boss who manipulates crooked counts at elections, the official who takes a bribe and lets law violators operate openly—these men are giving the soap-box orator ammunition that can make him powerful.

The radical is neither popular nor numerous in the United States today. But, as Governor Fuller warns, he will increase amazingly unless we have a drastic housecleaning in our politics. Once let the average man become convinced that present-day political machines are beyond reform and you will see a growth in socialism that will astound you.

STATE HOUSING HELP.

Although the conservatives are pretty firmly in control of things in France, they are not afraid of such words as "radical" or "socialistic"—not all the time, anyway.

The French chamber of deputies has just voted to extend government credits for the construction of 260,000 houses to help relieve the housing shortage. The total cost will be between 12,000,000,000 and 15,000,000,000 francs.

Undoubtedly, this business of state aid for a housing project looks rather socialistic. Yet France has been beset, ever since the war, by a housing shortage. Something had to be done. The government proved that it was not afraid of labels when it adopted this remedy.

Twenty-one guns roared in salute as Hoover embarked for South America. That other terrific roar you heard was from the candidates for postmasterships who won't get to see him for a couple of months.

Headlines you never see: "Won wealth by embezzling and playing horses, says former bank clerk."

Irving Cobb spends his winters window shopping, according to an item from New York. Babe Ruth also has a terrific appetite.

The only real thinkers in America are the men of the farms and small towns, says a French diplomat. Perhaps they got that way thinking about Congress' plans for farm relief.

The time is here when the head of the family can go out and lie in a bathtub all night in a drizzling rain to shoot ducks, and then come home and sit in a draft five minutes and catch cold.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Tinymites began to hoot. They realized their parachute was going to save them from a fall. "We're lucky," Scouty cried. "When raindrops dropped, and thunder boomed, I surely thought that we were doomed. We're safe within our boat, as long as we all stay inside."

They swayed on through the air with ease. The parachute was full of breeze, and Clowny yelled, "Oh, look at it! It's like a big balloon. As long as not a thing goes wrong, I think there's cause for happy song. Come on, let's join together in a merry little tune."

They all agreed this plan was good, and warbled loud, as best they could: "We're cheerful little Tinymites, held high up in the air. Our parachute is sinking slow. We do not know where it will go. Wherever that may be, we'll all be glad when we get there."

Then Coppy cried, "Look down—ward, please. I think I see a lot of trees."

"You're right," cried Clowny. "Sure enough! We're drifting now toward land. When we arrive right down on earth, let's try for all that we are worth to keep our boat from tipping over. Get set to lend a hand."

By this time there was little breeze. They floated safely through the trees, and landed very gently in a pretty open space. Out on the ground the Tinymites hopped. Then, suddenly the whole bunch stopped. A hunter, near at hand, exclaimed, "You're welcome to my place!"

They walked right up and shook his hand, and Mister Hunter said, "How grand! I'll now have lots of company for my Thanksgiving meal. I have a turkey I've just shot. You'll help me eat it, like as not. There's heaps for all. It matters not how hungry you may feel."

fort to find out how to make health programs more effective in the lives of school children. Body measurements and weight were but a part of the ground covered.

The calculations have been carried down to such a fine point that the relative importance of each body dimension in determining weight has been expressed. For instance, among 11-year old boys the width of hips is 36 per cent of the total influence determining weight, the depth of chest 25 per cent, breadth of chest 20 per cent, height 20 per cent and width of shoulders 5 per cent.

Another point is that the girth of the upper arm and of the calf fluctuates in proportion to weight. For children of similar body framework, the size of the calf is a good index to their weight. Measurements of girth and of weight taken in conjunction with the body framework may have great importance in revealing susceptibility to disease, fatigue and future growth.

A child may be heavy without being fat, or fat without being heavy. In other words, the padding under the skin does not go hand in hand with total body weight. It is the size of his skeleton that is most important. Further study of the thickness of the padding under the skin may be very valuable in helping to interpret how well children are assimilating their food.

It's Your Hips That Really Count

By Dr. Raymond H. Franzen

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. The headquarters of the Gorgas Memorial are at 1331 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

It isn't the height, it's the hips that count. At least the width of the body is more important in determining what a boy or girl should weigh than the length.

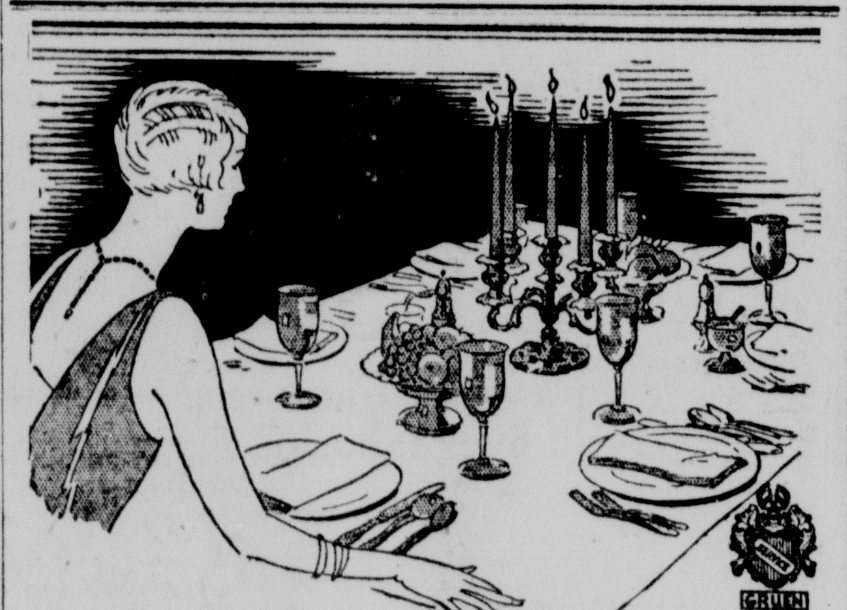

It has been customary for a good many years for boys and girls to step on the scales, watch the pointer go round to a stop, and then, knowing how tall they are, to refer to a table of figures to see whether they are above or below par in the game of weight. Most children survive the ordeal with smiling faces, but one or two out of every five find themselves way below the tables and fit candidates for the undernourished class.

The body is a cylinder that has diameter as well as height. Body frameworks vary, not only in height but in width and thickness. The wide framework is meant to carry more weight of flesh and fat than a narrow framework, even though the height is the same. For this reason the width and depth must be known as well as the height before you can say a person's weight is deficient.

The height-weight tables have, of course, been a valuable aid to health workers in the past. The experience gained from their use, and the new data available now make it possible to construct new tables, which will be still better and more accurate. My own studies of weight in relation to height include the measuring of 8,000 children of the fifth and sixth grades, from schools of seventy cities scattered over the country. Schools in these cities were studied by physicians and educators in the ef-

AFTERMATH OF BIG TEN GRID SEASON HEARD

Wilce's Plans, Schedules, Captains are Theme Of Talk

BY PAUL R. MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
Chicago, Nov. 27.—The Big Ten's 1928 football championship is over, but plans of Coach Jack Wilce of Ohio State, next season's heavy schedule, election of captains, claims for All-American and All-Conference honors and the forthcoming conclave of athletic officials provided plenty of post-season chatter today.

Beyond admitting he had several "attractive offers," Coach Wilce, who resigned following the storm of alumni criticism last year, refused to comment on reports he had been offered posts at Harvard, Nebraska, Dartmouth and even another chance at Ohio State.

"There are many things to be considered," Wilce said, "but I am not at liberty to speak. I am fond of Columbus and perhaps would not care to move from here. I have my medical profession and may decide to devote my full time to it. Just now it is too early to say what I am going to do."

Intersectional Games
A survey of the 1929 schedules, which have been virtually completed, reveals four important intersectional games have been scheduled with eastern teams. Harvard will come west to play Michigan, the Army will invade Illinois, Coach Amos Alonzo Stagg will take his Chicago eleven to Princeton to battle the Tigers, and Colgate and Wisconsin will clash at Madison. After a lapse of several years, Indiana will meet Notre Dame and Coach Pat Page of the Hoosiers has decided to make his first scouting foray on Notre Dame by watching them play the University of Southern California Saturday at Los Angeles.

Heaviest Schedules
Iowa and Michigan have framed the heaviest conference schedules, each playing six games while the other teams play five.

Only two captains have been selected by Big Ten teams for next year so far. Both are from Chicago. Pat Kelly was chosen to lead Chicago, while Russell Crane, a guard, will lead Illinois.

The Chicago Motor Club bowlers defeated the Dixon Implement Co. team two out of three games last night, Rosbrook getting the high score for one game—254—which is also the high for the tournament to date. His score for the three games, 621, was also the highest. Reynolds Wire won two of three games from Amoy, Missman and Pittman being tied for high single game with 211. Pittman was high for the three games with 568. Two games will be played by A league teams this evening, Sterling meeting the Quality Cleaners and the Golf Shop aggregation taking on Boynton Richards. ### ROCK FALLS H. H. IS CLAIMANT FOR THE TITLE

Sterling Gazette says Conference Ruling Beats Mendota

The Sterling Gazette claims the football championship of the Rock River Valley High School Conference for the Rock Falls team in Monday evening's issue. The Gazette says:

Rock Falls high is the undisputed champion of Rock River conference by virtue of Mendota's 27 to 0 win over Rochelle at Mendota on last Saturday. There is a conference ruling that it is necessary for a team to play at least five conference games in order to be figured in on the conference championship. Mendota played but three Rock River conference games, namely: Dixon, Amboy and Rochelle. Mendota defeated Dixon, 54 to 0; Amboy 39 to 0; Rochelle, 27 to 0. Rock Falls in winning the championship defeated Dixon 19 to 0; Mt. Morris, 12 to 7; tied with Rochelle, 0 to 0; won from Morrison, 2 to 0; and Sterling, 6 to 0. Coach R. L. Akrey, Captain Logan and the members of the Rock Falls high school are to be congratulated upon their successful season.

Cubs Seeking Early Games with Tigers

Chicago, Nov. 27.—(AP)—The Chicago Cubs are attempting to arrange a series of spring exhibition games with the Detroit Tigers at either Phoenix, Arizona, or Los Angeles.

Because the Pacific Coast League will start its championship season on the last Tuesday in March, it will be necessary for the Cubs, who will train at Catalina Island, to seek new opponents for their exhibition games.

DIXON HIGH TO STERLING FOR CLOSING GAME

Will be Second Scrap Between Two Teams This Season

The Dixon high school football team will partake lightly of Thanksgiving food Thursday noon and participate in their feast in the evening, after the annual tilt on the gridiron with the Sterling high school. This year the game will be played at Sterling and is the only grid contest scheduled in this locality of major importance.

Early in the season Dixon won from Sterling, but this time the locals are satisfied that they will have a much harder fight on their hands in order to win the Thanksgiving tilt. There will be but the one game between the heavyweight teams of the two schools, the pony divisions having decided their quarrel last week.

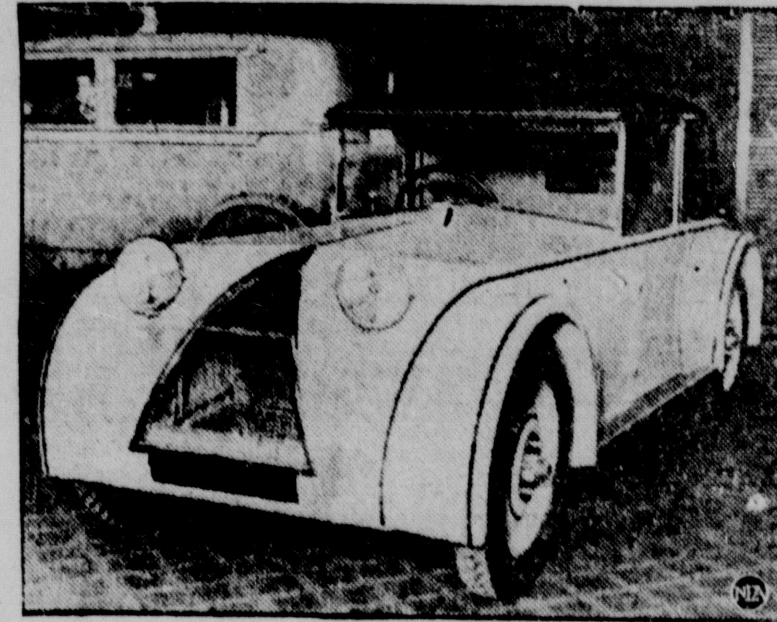

Amboy, with a somewhat crippled squad, is scheduled to go to Mendota Thursday and engage the high school team in their second game of the season. Mendota won over Amboy Armistice Day.

England's Latest in Auto Design

Something really new in sports car design is this queer-looking model exhibited at the International Motor Show in London. It is reminiscent of Major H. O. D. Seagrave's celebrated racing car, yet this "tank" coupe is not a powerful speedster, for it is driven by a 12 h. p. motor.

hasn't signed a contract yet, but will do so at the joint sessions of the American and National Leagues here Dec. 11 and 12, the News has been informed.

Owner Charles Comiskey had nothing to say about the report.

Reigh Count Seeks Honors in England

Chicago, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Reigh Count, the big red Hertz colt, will begin his next journey for fame and fortune Thursday, headed toward England and the Ascot Gold Cup race.

The Kentucky Derby winner and recognized three-year old champion of America for 1928 will be shipped to New York where he will board the transport Minneswasha, sailing for Liverpool, Dec. 1. He will have nearly six months in which to acclimate himself to English weather and feed before the race.

Jockey Chick Lang, who rode the big red head in all his American triumphs, will be up in the Ascot race.

Trainer B. A. Mitchell and Larry Mills, also will go to England.
Mrs. John D. Hertz, owner, and her husband, Chicago taxicab magnate and stable owner, plan to reach England in time for the race.

Easts Greatest Teams Play West To Close Season

New York, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Three of the east's greatest elevens have chosen to pick intersectional foes for the grand finale of the season.

New York University, with as great an all-around aggregation as there is in this sector, tackles the Oregon aggies on Thanksgiving day at the Yankee stadium. The Army, another eleven that has known defeat only once this season, meets Stanford in the big battle of the east on Saturday. On the same day Georgetown, turned back only by Carnegie Tech, goes into the west to wind up the season with a battle against Detroit, one of the very small company of unbeaten and untied teams.

Dartmouth Coach is Against Any Change

Chicago, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Jess Hawley, Dartmouth College coach, believes the present football rules should not be altered.

"Leave the rules alone," Hawley said. "They are fine as they are, both from the spectators' angle, that is the players and the coaches. And above all, let's keep kicking in the game. There's little enough now. Changes should be made only when we know they will be of value. We can't afford to have guesses."

CHOICE OF BEST HERDS IN STATE BEING GROOMED

Will be Shown at the Big Livestock Show in Chicago Soon

Chicago—(AP)—The choice of Illinois' finest herds, nearly 900 specimens of pure bred live stock are being groomed for the International Live Stock Exposition here December 1 to 8.

These animals, coming from 153 of the state's leading exhibitors, will compete with the choicest stock of herds of North America for the honors of the exposition. Twenty-eight different breeds are represented in the Illinois entries.

Among hundreds of trophies and prizes to be awarded B. H. Heide, secretary-manager, said that none will be more keenly sought than the silver trophies which Sir Thomas Lipton, the internationally famous sportsman and merchant, will offer to the winning team in the inter-collegiate stock judging contest. The University of Illinois will be one of the 20 or 25 college and university teams from the United States and Canada competing for the Lipton Cup.

A long list of Illinois live stock authorities will serve as judges in the big live stock event. They include Stanley R. Pierce of Creston, who will serve as one of a committee of two to pass upon the Aberdeen-Angus breeding classes; H. R. Smith of the Union Stock Yards, Chicago, who will judge Gallowses, and T. G. Patterson of Argyle, who will rank the class known as "Steers Favored for Slaughter."

Other Illinois judges and the classes in which they will officiate are: Edward Hess and Arthur Eitlinger of Chicago, Carload Fat Cattle classes; Harry Schirring, Petersburg, feeder cattle; Robert Lorimer, Evanston, carcass sheep; Joseph Brown, Chicago, carload sheep; E. C. Caverly, Peoria, Poland-China swine; Henry W. Matern, Loxant, Jersey swine; Charles Richter, Moline, Chester-White swine; H. F. Arnold, Chicago, carcass swine; A. G. Welcher, Chicago, carload swine; and Harry McNair, Chicago, Peeween horses.

Illinois gentlemen who have made entry in the Shorthorn classes include Bowers and Fuller, of Elmwood; Brunington Brothers, Cameron; Fidelity Farms, Wilson; Leroy Fineran, Wataga; Ray Greathouse, Hindsboro; Havlands Farm, Sharpburg; A. W. Kohlev, Lisle; Mathers Brothers, Mazon; City, George B. Millers, Canton; Lee Ward, Moffit, Alton; Stittson Farm, Glen Ellyn; Nelson Seed, Jov; Max Swanson, Galesburg; Raymond Swanson, Galesburg; Taara Farms, Geneva; John R. Thompson Estate, Pithian; Vernon Wheeler, Mazon; Winmoor Farms, Dundee; and the University of Illinois, Urbana.

Among Hereford showmen will be Virginia Akins, Warren; Jane Britton, Casner; H. F. Pluck, Goodenow; Russell Ramp, Newman; J. E. Thompson, Martinsville; Dr. D. D. Van Voorhis, Beecher; and the University of Illinois, Urbana.

Aberdeen-Angus herds of the state will be represented by E. L. Bateman, Barrington; Edwin Brown, Alton; Raus Brown, Alton; Eugene Fassett, Reynolds; Tim Pierce, Creston; and Garrett J. Tolan, Farmingdale. Two large herds of Red Polled cattle have been entered by H. P. Olson, of Alton, and Alva I. Schickendanz, of Chenoa, and the Polled Shorthorn breed will have among their number three animals entered from Illinois in the steer classes which will be shown by A. O. Murray, of Mazon.

COUNTY FAIRS BROKE RECORDS DURING SEASON

State's Share Premiums
This Year
is $276,796

Springfield, Ill.—(AP)—Reviewing the most successful year for county fairs in the history of Illinois, S. J. Standard, director of the state department of agriculture, has started mailing the "state aid" checks to county and agricultural fair managers.

Each year, the state pays a large part of all premium awards of county and agricultural fairs. This year Standard's figures show fairs paid to farmers, their wives and children, a total of $442,976.26 in premiums and the state reimbursed the fairs to the amount of $276,796.03—believed to be the most any state has ever paid for the promotion of agriculture through encouraging agricultural exhibits.

County fairs are reimbursed on a sliding basis—the state pays 85 percent of the first $1,000, 75 percent of the second, 65 percent of the third, and fourth, and 55 percent of all above $4,000. The money is taken from that paid into the state through legalized gambling on horse races.

State aid for county fairs has shown a steady gain for the past four bienniums. Standard's figures show: In 1921-22, there was appropriated $230,000; the next biennium $300,000, in 1925-26 $350,000 and for the last biennium, 1927-28, $440,000. The last figure marks the first paid from the race track fund.

This decided increase in appropriations, Standard pointed out, has led to an equally large increase in the amount of premiums offered, as witnessed by the gain in total premiums this year—from $364,106 in 1927 to $442,976.

Standard expects to have all vouchers written within a few days. There will be a deficiency this year of $619.09—that is, the total available appropriation, will lack that sum of being enough for all due payments.

Weekly Review of Agriculture by Farmers Paper

Chicago—(AP)—Cattle feeding is on the increase, the weekly review of agriculture by Prairie Farmer said today. More cattle were shipped from leading markets into the corn belt in the last four months than in 1927. Shipments from July to October were 25 per cent greater than last year, but were about the same as in 1925 and 1926, and four per cent below the five-year average for this period. Nearly all of the increase was in states west of the Mississippi River.

The big crop of last spring was smaller than that of 1927, as shown by private and official reports, but the hog market should do better after a few more weeks. Prices in the last eight weeks have had one of the most drastic autumn breaks ever known, and appear to have considerably over-discounted the supply situation. Exports of hog meats remain rather light, but domestic consumptive demand continues broad.

Some decrease in winter lamb feeding this year, compared with last year and two years ago, is indicated by the movement of feeders, up to November 1, into the principal feeding areas in the corn belt and western states. A possible late movement into some of the western areas may bring the total for the country up to last winter, however.

The estimate of the Canadian wheat crop has been reduced 49 million bushels. Deliveries in Western Canada have fallen off and managers of the Canadian Wheat Pool are keeping a strong grip on their holdings. The world's visible supply of wheat now totals 274 million bushels against 269 million last year. Argentina and Australia report that conditions are most favorable. Foreign countries are absorbing wheat freely. While the market may work for some time yet, over the ground it has been covering for the last three months, any important change is likely to be upward.

Primary receipts of corn are increasing daily, but now total only three million bushels as compared to 22 million a year ago. About 75 per cent of the new corn marketed to date in Illinois has graded No. 5. Corn prices seem likely to show strength until market stocks have been built up.

The supply of hay suitable for dairy use is scarce and top grades of alfalfa, timothy and prairie hays are all good sellers. Dealers expect no decline on these grades from the present level, while there is possibility of some advance, as receipts decline.

More poultry has been stored so far this season than a year ago. On November 1, 1928, 38,452,000 pounds of dressed poultry had been accumulated compared with 32,315,000 pounds on November 1, 1927. This poultry is being bought at prices which average several cents a pound higher than a year ago.

Conditions are improving in the egg market, and dealers are expecting a good winter market.

Valuable Hints for Farmers and Their Good Wives

Farmers are urged not to hold any more livestock than they can handle advantageously. Overstocking encourages parasites by concentrating pasture infection.

Bred ewes need some exercise over winter. If winter pastures are not used, scatter the roughage over the field so that they will get exercise in feeding. Dry snow has no bad effect on ewes, but wet snow and rain may result in colds and pneumonia of serious consequences.

Utilize red clover straw and chaff by applying it to thin spots in fields which are to be in clover next year. This method materially improves the inoculation and tends to increase the productivity of the clover and other crops.

The pine mouse takes an unfair advantage of the orchardist by inflicting damage on fruit trees underneath the ground where it is undetected. The best way to combat this rodent is to use a poisoned bait. Wooden "stations," drain tiles or wide-mouthed bottles may be used as containers.

Now that the pasture season is about over and the cows must be given more expensive feeds, it is a good time to check up on the herd and cull the unprofitable ones. At the same time take stock of the roughage on hand for winter. In event of a shortage, it may be more profitable to cull a little more closely than buy additional roughage.

The Farm Week in Washington

By FRANK I. WELLER
(Associated Press Farm Editor)
Washington—(AP)—Authoritative farm thought attaches increasing significance to the vote on agricultural relief just recorded by local chambers of commerce throughout the country.

Some observers believe that for the first time "city business" may support farm relief legislation in congress. Arthur H. Jenkins, editor of The Farm Journal, feels confident in the prediction that a major portion of the next relief program "will have the united support of the nation's industrial and commercial interests."

The vote was taken on a plan proposed through the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, five of its seven recommendations following closely the policies advocated by various farm groups. They are:

That the farmer be protected from destructive competition of foreign imports by a fair application of the protective tariff system.

That cooperative bodies for the selling of farm products be encouraged.

That reclamation by the government of new lands in the west for agricultural purposes be delayed.

That the departments of Agriculture and Interior be reorganized to abolish the inefficiency and other evils which result from overlapping.

That more money be provided for federal agricultural research.

The two proposals on which the vote of the chambers of commerce is considered unsatisfactory to agriculture are:

That the functions of the proposed federal farm board be limited to investigating farm problems and making suggestions to congress.

That no new credit facilities for temporary relief of financially distressed farmers are necessary if the present agencies are fully developed.

Farm leaders point out that "even the moderate proposals of Mr. Hoover and Secretary of Agriculture Jardine call for loans of treasury funds through new machinery, and a farm board with real power to act."

The new plan, which Senator McNary, chairman of the senate committee on agriculture, expects to introduce when congress is reassembled and for which the support of the incoming administration is claimed, would provide a federal fund of $300,000,000 for loans to be used in removing farm surplus. The farm board, through which the funds would be administered, would have the power, upon recommendation of advisory councils for the commodity concerned, to take whatever steps were needed to protect the market.

Inasmuch as the new plan of farm relief is expected to entail a revision of agricultural schedules, the chambers of commerce's view on the tariff as it affects the farmer is interpreted as support for forthcoming legislation. More than two billion dollars worth of competitive farm imports reach the United States each year. Leaders, demanding substantial monopoly of the American market for American farmers, ask of congress a quick tariff, good enough for immediate practical purposes, and which can be elaborated upon at leisure.

OVER THOUSAND STATE FARMERS TO ATTEND MEET

Many Reservations for American Federation Sessions

Chicago, Nov. 27—(AP)—One thousand farmers will represent Illinois at the tenth annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau federation, Chicago, December 7 to 12, advance requests for reservations indicate.

Interest is second only to that evinced in the 14th annual meeting of the Illinois Agricultural association, to be held in Danville, January 30 and 31, dates for which have just been announced.

Official delegates for the national meeting from the Illinois Agricultural association will include President Earl Smith, C. E. Bamforth, Polo, A. R. Wright, Varna, and George P. Tullock, Rockford. The entire I. A. A. executive committee and department heads will also be present, together with officers of county Farm Bureaus and farm advisers.

LaSalle, Fulton, Tazewell and Hancock county farm bureaus it is reported already have organized delegations. In other sections of the state neighborhood groups are being enrolled to avail themselves of the special reduced railroad rates to the convention.

Many parties are planning motor bus trips to the convention and a few are considering the airplane as their preferred vehicle of transportation. Every effort is being made by the selling of farm products be encouraged.

Get More Eggs Now!

BIG poultrymen, little poultrymen, are finding that when it comes to getting more eggs, day in and day out, you simply can't beat Purina Poultry Chows.

Purina puts into hens the material from which eggs are made. That's why Purina-fed hens put more eggs in the nest. No mystery about that.

Change to Purina today. Gather more eggs while prices are high.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR MAILING OF YOUR CHRISTMAS GIFTS

P. O. Department Issues Information for Christmas Mail

The force at the Dixon post office is getting ready for the Christmas rush, and that holiday mail may be handled without delay, and that all such mail can be delivered before Christmas, on which day Postmaster General Harry S. New has ordered that all postal employees shall have a full holiday, they have prepared the following instructions for patrons:

Wrapping and Packing

All parcels must be securely wrapped and packed. Use strong paper and heavy twine.

Special Packing

Umbrellas, canes, golf sticks should be reinforced their full length by strong strips of wood tightly wrapped and tied or otherwise sufficiently wrapped to withstand transportation.

Hats: Pack in strong corrugated or fiber boxes. Ordinary pasteboard hat boxes must be crated. Ladies' hats and stiff hats easily damaged should be marked "FRAGILE".

Shoes: Pack in strong boxes, preferably corrugated cardboard. Wrap with strong paper securely tied with heavy twine.

Cut flowers: Place in strong suitable boxes of wood, tin, or heavy corrugated cardboard. Wrap with tissue to retain moisture.

Candies: Inclose in strong outside boxes or containers.

Drawings, paintings, unmounted maps, etc.: Pack or wrap in strong material to avoid damage. When not flat, roll around a wooden core and then wrap and tie carefully or place in strong pasteboard tube.

Sharp-pointed or sharp-edged instruments or tools must have points and edges fully guarded to prevent injury to clerks in handling or damage to other mail. Crate suitably or thoroughly wrap so that they can not cut through the wrapping.

Fragile Objects: Articles easily broken or crushed must be crated or securely wrapped. Use liberal quantities of excelsior, or like material, in, around, and between the articles and the outside container.

Glassware, fragile toys, crockery must be packed so as to prevent the escape of particles or pieces if broken in transit.

Cigars: Ordinary boxes of cigars wrapped in paper only will not be accepted. Pack in a manner to prevent damage by shock or jar. Wrap in corrugated pasteboard or similar material.

All articles easily broken or damaged must be plainly marked "FRAGILE".

Perishable Matter: Articles likely to spoil within the time reasonably required for transportation and delivery will not be accepted for mailing. Wrap or pack carefully, according to contents, and plainly mark all such parcels "PERISHABLE." Use special delivery stamps to expedite delivery.

Addresses: Addresses should be complete, with house number and name of street, post-office box or rural-route number, and typed or plainly written in ink. A return card should be placed in the upper left corner of every piece of mail. If a tag is used, the address and return card should also be written on the wrapper for use if tag is lost, and a copy of the address should be inclosed inside the parcel.

Postage: Postage must be fully prepaid on all mail. Affix the required amount of postage in the upper right corner. Full information concerning postage rates can be obtained at the parcel post or stamp window.

Limit of Weight and Size
No parcel may be more than 84 inches in length and girth combined. For delivery locally and in the first, second, and third zones, 70 pounds is the maximum weight; in all other zones, 50 pounds.

Early Mailing
During the holiday time the volume of mail increases approximately 200 per cent. It is a physical impossibility to handle this great mass of mail matter efficiently and promptly within a few days. Therefore to assure delivery of their Christmas presents, cards and letters by Christmas Day the public should SHOP AND MAIL EARLY. Do your Christmas shopping so that you can mail your gifts, greetings and letters to relatives, friends, and loved ones at least a week or 10 days before Christmas, according to the distance. This will not only make it certain that they are received on or before Christmas Day, but will be a great aid to your postal service and to postal employees and enable them to spend Christmas with their families.

Christmas Cards
Patrons sending a quantity of Christmas cards, say 10 or more, should prepare and mail them two or three weeks in advance, as millions are mailed and they can not possibly be handled and delivered if mailed only two or three or four days before Christmas. To avoid this, patrons may mail their cards two or three weeks before Christmas, if delivered to the post office or postal station in person, or tied together in a bundle, labeled to show that they are Christmas cards, and deposited in a street letter or package box. They will then be segregated, stamped with the date on which to be delivered, and delivery effected one or two days before Christmas.

Christmas cards and gifts addressed to points within one day's travel should be mailed in no event later than December 20; within two days' travel, not later than December 18; within three days' travel, not later than December 16; for more distant points, not later than December 14. Parcels and cards for local delivery should be mailed not later than December 21. PARCELS AND ENVELOPES MAY BE INDORSED, "PLEASE DO NOT OPEN UNTIL CHRISTMAS."

Special-Delivery Service
The use of a SPECIAL-DELIVERY stamp will assure delivery on Christmas Day, if mailed at the proper time. SPECIAL-DELIVERY SERVICE means the handling and transportation of parcels with the same expedition as first-class letter mail, as well as the immediate delivery at office of address. It is obtained by affixing a SPECIAL-DELIVERY stamp of the proper denomination, or its equivalent in ordinary stamps, in addition to the regular postage. When ordinary stamps are used, the words, "SPECIAL DELIVERY" must be written or printed directly below, BUT NOT ON THE STAMPS. It is urged that all mailers desiring immediate delivery of any matter mailed by them affix SPECIAL-DELIVERY stamps thereto. SPECIAL DELIVERY is for speed and not for safety. Valuable mail should be registered or insured.

Where To Mail Parcels
Uninsured parcels 8 ounces or less in weight may be mailed in street letter or package boxes at all classified stations and branches and at such numbered stations as are designated to receive parcels. Parcels weighing over 8 ounces can not be mailed in street boxes, but must be taken to the main post office or classified station or branch. Parcels containing meat, food products, cut flowers, or other perishable matter should be mailed only at the main post office or one of the large classified stations.

Matter Not Mailable at Parcel-Post Rates
Written matter in the nature of personal correspondence can not be inclosed in parcels.

Communications attached to parcels: A letter placed in an envelope, addressed to correspond with the address on the parcel and fully prepaid at the first-class rate, may be tied or otherwise securely attached to the outside of the parcel in such manner as to prevent separation therefrom and not obscure the address on the parcel.

Insure or Registered Valuable Mail
All valuable domestic parcel-post mail should be insured.

Insurance fees: Value not exceeding $5, 5 cents; not exceeding $25, 8 cents; not exceeding $50, 10 cents; not exceeding $100, 25 cents.

Coin, currency, jewelry, and articles of similar value should be sent as SEALED FIRST-CLASS REGISTERED MAIL.

Collect-On-Delivery Service
Parcel-post also third-class, matter may be sent C. O. D. from one money-order post office to another. Fees (in addition to regular postage): Value not exceeding $10, 12 cents; not exceeding $50, 15 cents; not exceeding $100, 25 cents, to be prepaid with stamps affixed. The C. O. D. fee also covers insurance against loss or damage up to $10 for a fee of 12 cents; up to $50 for a fee of 15 cents; and up to $100 for a fee of 25 cents actual value.

Parcels for Foreign Countries
Parcels of mailable merchandise may be sent (subject to certain limitations and conditions) by international parcel post to all foreign countries except Tristan Da Cunha. Foreign parcel-post packages should be mailed at the main office or large classified stations.

Owing to the long sea travel involved as a rule and to customs inspection abroad, foreign parcels should be mailed in November.

Bad weather last year had a disastrous effect on the number of visitors to Kew Gardens, London. The decrease, compared with 1926 was 84,459, the highest attendance being 60,014 on Easter Monday, and the lowest 6 on November 26.

Only Four Die in This Spectacular Wreck

The most remarkable part of the story that this picture tells is that only four persons were killed. A London, Midland and Scotland express, traveling at a mile-a-minute clip, crashed into a freight train near Lock-erie, England. Engines and coal cars were piled into a mass of wreckage and the express coach climbed atop the pile as shown.

Bandit Caught When Bride Spills Beans

New York, Nov. 26—(AP)—Bridegroom of two weeks was arrested as a taxi bandit today after his bride told police he was carrying a pistol and she "didn't like the looks of it."

He was caught after a chase along Broadway by detectives to whom the wife had complained. He suffered a superficial wound in the leg.

The bridegroom, who said he was Robert Preston of San Francisco, confessed, police said, to 15 taxicab holdups during the four weeks and a half he had been in town.

Football Star Suicides

Pittsburgh, Nov. 27—(AP)—Football injuries that brought on ill health and despondency were given as the reason for the suicide of a 19-year-old boy who leaped from a bridge Saturday while scores of persons going to the Carnegie Tech-New York University game looked on.

The youth, Samuel Ecker, 19, a former star of the East Pittsburgh high school eleven, jumped to the Baltimore & Ohio railroad tracks, a fall of 300 feet.

Young Ecker had been prevented from playing independent football because of his illnesses and had been acting strangely, according to Cyrus Ecker, the father, who identified his son in the morgue.

$10,000 Richer Since She Aided Stranded Woman

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 26—(AP)—Fifteen years ago Miss Maude Rogers of Red Oak, Iowa, now Mrs. V. J. Petricek of Omaha, befriended Mrs. Elizabeth Best of Los Angeles. Today she is $10,000 richer.

Mrs. Petricek was recently informed of Mrs. Best's recent death and that her will provided that Mrs. Petricek was to receive $10,000 on Jan. 1, 1929.

Mrs. Petricek became acquainted with Mrs. Best when the former was manager of a lunch room at Red Oak, Iowa, in 1913. Mrs. Best had lost her pocketbook and Mrs. Petricek gave her a nights lodging and food and then bought her a railroad ticket to her home.

When Mrs. Best boarded the train for home she gave Mrs. Petricek a thimble as a remembrance and told her that some day she would hear from her.

SNOW IN EAST

New York, Nov. 26—(AP)—Snow ushered in Thanksgiving week in most of the eastern seaboard states, the fall ranging from a trace to several inches in parts of the Alleghenies.

The heaviest fall was recorded in western Pennsylvania where snow plows were needed to clear some of the mountain roads.

SEND RELIEF TO STRICKEN AREA IN PHILIPPINES

Relief Ship Races to Aid of 7000 Homeless Typhoon Victims

Manila, Nov. 26—(AP)—Damaged communication systems today left the full story of the typhoon in the central part of the Philippine Archipelago untold while the cruiser Milwaukee, carrying physicians, nurses, relief directors, a representative of Governor General Stimson and an emergency food supply, headed toward the stricken area.

Although no fatalities have been reported, the typhoon, which raged for two days over the islands and then passed over the China Sea, is said to have left 7,000 persons homeless in the vicinity of Legaspi, Albay province. A 100 mile an hour wind there destroyed 400 homes and seven wharves.

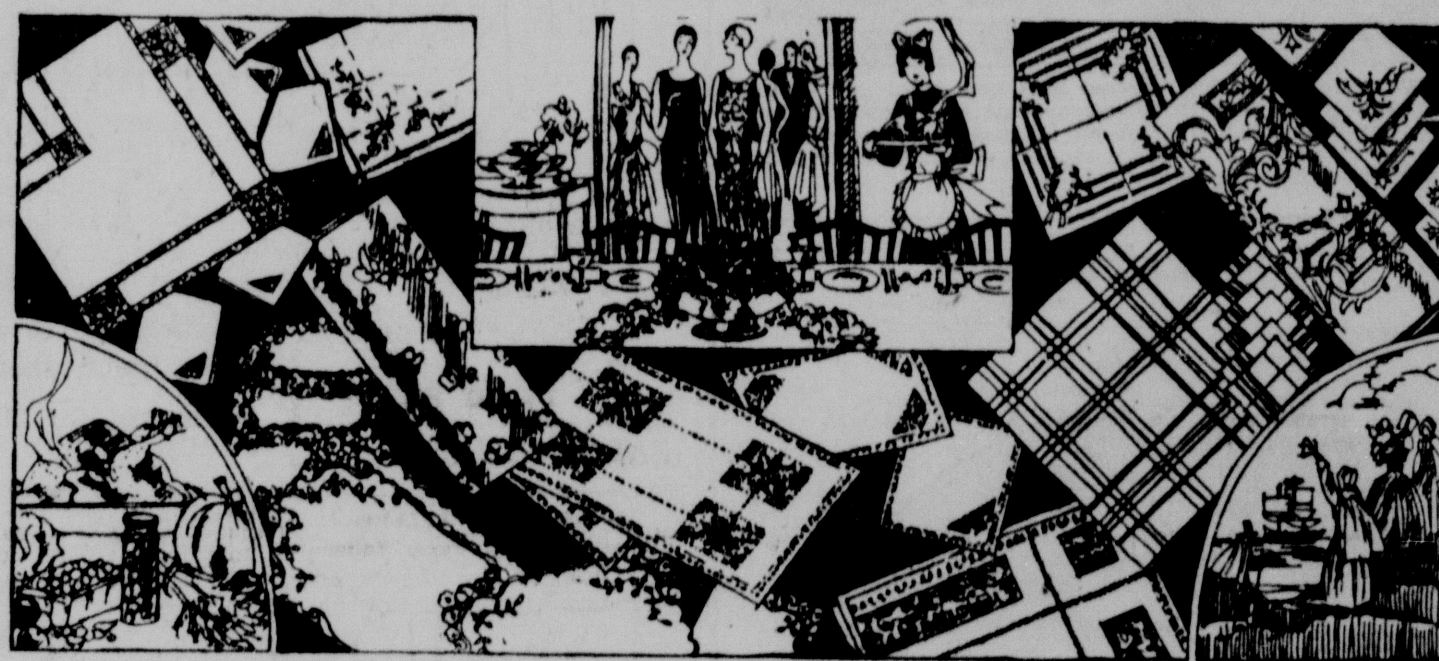

Many towns known to have been in the path of the storm have not yet reported.

$2,000,000 Alcohol Fire

A federal revenue agent and another man were killed and $2,000,000 worth of damage resulted from this spectacular fire at Philadelphia. Plane Refuels Without Stop

Looking forward to the day when planes will not have to stop to pick up cargo and gasoline, Blaine M. Tuxhorn, Kansas City aviator, has been demonstrating an invention for refueling of motors while in flight. As the hook catches the rope, as shown in the demonstration above, an electrical device which shoots the gasoline container along the ground is started. This minimizes the shock of picking up the object. The inventor also is pictured.

ILLINOIS BROKE ROAD-BUILDING RECORD IN YEAR

1,300 Miles of Hard-Surfaced Highways Were Built in 1928

Springfield, Ill.—(AP)—Four times the State of Illinois has broken the world's record as builder of hard-surfaced roads.

This year's record of the period ending November 15 is 1,285.4 miles, exceeding the previous record, also held by Illinois, for 1924, which was 1,229.5 miles. These figures were announced by Frank T. Sheets, Chief Highway Engineer, who added that the total for the season will likely exceed 1,300 miles before work stops.

Beside pavement, 265 miles of heavy grading and 262 separate bridges have been completed.

Included in the 1,285.4 miles of pavement constructed up to November 15th is 222.6 miles built by 13 of the counties under State supervision. Approximately 125 miles of the 222.6 miles were constructed by the county.

This county work is constructed under an amendment to the original State aid law, whereby the counties pay all of the cost of construction at the time the work is built. The State, however, retains close supervision of both the design and construction activities, and takes the roads over for continuous maintenance after their completion. In effect, therefore, such work may be classed as State work, and is accordingly included in the total construction accomplishments for the year.

Is Fourth Record

The establishing of another record for road construction this year makes the fourth of such records accomplished by Illinois. The first record was made in 1922, when 741 miles were built. At that time there was no record of any greater accomplishment for a single season's work. But the following year, this mileage was increased to 1985 miles, and 1924 was the banner year with a record of 1229.5 miles. According to the Division of Highways, these records remain undisputed. If the new record established in 1928 reaches 1300 miles, it is safe to say that it will probably stand unequalled for some time to come.

To accomplish a program such as this requires an immense outlay of capital, man-power and materials. Practically all of the pavement is laid between the months of June and October, a period of 5 months. This means that approximately 65 miles must be completed each week, or slightly over one mile per working hour. To maintain this rate means the employment of more than 10,000 men and 1200 teams. Indirectly, it provides employment for a great many more men in the cement mills, stone quarries, gravel pits, steel plants, an other industries which contribute their products to this work. To construct 1300 miles of pavement, it requires approximately 16,830 cars of cement, 31,050 cars of sand and 47,700 cars of stone or gravel. A total of 95,580 cars. If these were coupled into a single train, it would be about 830 miles in length; or it would reach from Chicago to Boston, Chicago to Denver, or Chicago to Tampa, Florida.

Much Planning Needed

To accomplish a program of this magnitude requires much forethought and planning on the part of the engineers of the Division of Highways. The necessary survey work and preparation of plans must be done well in advance. Contracts must be awarded early, so as to permit the contractors to perfect their organizations and make their plans for carrying out the work. The preliminary work, such as grading bridges and culverts must be completed early in the year so that the paving can start as soon as weather conditions will permit it. Further, the material interests must have time to make arrangements for supplying large amounts of materials. For instance, producers of cement, must set aside approximately 4,000,000 barrels of cement. The contractors and the material producers, however, have been equal to the demands made upon them. Because of the large road building programs carried on in this State during the past few years, there has been developed a very capable and reliable contracting organization, well-equipped with the most modern road building machinery and thoroughly versed in the best construction methods. The material companies have so developed their output that they have been able to meet the demands made upon them for State road construction, and the equipment companies have kept pace with the demands for modern machinery.

Finally, there must be an adequate organization of capable experienced, and trustworthy engineers. The nucleus of the present engineering organization of the Illinois division of highways was formed when highway construction first started on an intensive scale, and the engineers in responsible charge of the State highway program average fifteen years in the State's service. Rigid engineering inspection insures that every mile of pavement and all structures are built in accordance with the contract requirements and that proper progress is made. The matter of inspection is regarded by the officials of the division of highways as of extreme importance, and nothing is left undone to assure that its scope and thoroughness are beyond question.

One Killed When Coast Guard Base Suffers Bad Fire

New London, Conn., Nov. 27.—(AP)—A check up today after spectacular fire at the coast guard base, revealed the loss of one life. Fifty other coast guardsmen escaped.

The fire laid waste two coast guard buildings. The spread of the blaze, caused by burning oil, necessitated releasing twenty government ships tied in the harbor. The administration building was saved.

Oil and ammunition were kept in the store room, which was burned. Explosions hastened its destruction.

THIS HAS HAPPENED

Fate introduces JERRY RAY to ALBERT CARSTAIRS when he crashes his airplane into the camp site as he starts with Jerry. Jerry, things are . . . just things. They don't count.

"Yes they do!" Jerry differed fiercely. "You count more than you've any idea. You're glad, aren't you, Evelyn, that you know about books and pictures and good taste and lovely manners . . ."

"It isn't fashionable to have manners," Evelyn put in, but Jerry took no notice of the interruption. "Do you think you would be what you are if you'd grown up in an old unpainted house that was little better than a shack and eaten your meals in a kitchen with a rusty stove that your men folks used to get a place in a chorus."

Rehearsals are hard, but she is befriended by EVELYN STARR, who is to love with JERRY. Evelyn gives a party at which Jack takes exception to Jerry's presence, but then forces an apology from him.

Alister shows his jealousy, and tries to win Jerry, but when he proposes she tells him she does not believe in love but hopes to marry for money. He leaves her after trying to warn her against Alister.

Alister makes advances which Jerry repulses. But when he learns that she has lost her job on his account, he uses his influence to get her a place in a chorus. Rehearsals are hard, but she is befriended by EVELYN STARR, who is to love with JERRY.

NEGRO SLAVES OF OLDEN DAYS FARED BETTER THAN MEN

Writer Tells of Former Thanksgivings and Conditions

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is a second of a Thanksgiving week series by Bruce Catton, staff writer for The Telegraph and NEA Service, contrasting living conditions of the past and the present and showing what the average workingman has to be thankful for this Thanksgiving Day.

BY BRUCE CATTON
Staff Writer for The Telegraph
NEA Service Writer

The modern workman, pulling his chair up to the table on Thanksgiving and taking up the carving knife with eager anticipation, congratulates himself on the fact that his wages are a great deal higher than his grandfather would have dreamed of making.

Despite that, however, the Thanksgiving season always brings regrets for those "good old days"—the fabulous era of the happy workman, when a little would buy much, when life was more peaceable and serene, when the toiler was more of an individual and less of a machine.

All right; let's see about it. Were the "good old days" all of those nice things?

We have already seen that the old-time worker, even after allowances are made for the difference in price levels, actually lived in abject poverty, compared with his present estate. Now let's look into his working conditions.

In 1824 the tailors of Buffalo, on Christmas eve, had what they called a "turnout" for better wages. They held a meeting, agreed on a new scale of wages and quit work when their requests were turned down.

On the day after Christmas they were arrested for criminal conspiracy, convicted and fined $2 each!

Until that year a labor union was in itself criminal conspiracy, whether it made any demands for higher wages or not. Then, a little after this Buffalo case, the courts began to hold that a labor union might be tolerated if it didn't do anything; but any effort to raise wages was anathema. In 1835 another New York court held that a group of journeymen shoemakers, trying to force higher wages, were "conspiring to injure trade and commerce," and hence punishable.

To be sure, in 1842, a Massachusetts judge held that a peaceable strike was legal; but for many years his view was not adopted universally. As recently as 1894, Federal Judge Jenkins ruled:

"It is idle to talk of a peaceable strike. None such ever existed. No strike can be effective without compulsion and force. . . . It has been well said that the wit of man cannot devise a legal strike. . . . A strike is essentially a conspiracy to extort by violence."

The workingman, accordingly, was more or less up against it in the matter of improving his working conditions, hours of labor or pay schedule.

Nor was that his only difficulty. In these "good old days" it was a rare employer that did not put some kind of swindle over on his hirelings. One of the favorite methods with factories and mines was to pay by script—that is, by orders on the company store. Under this system, the worker was very lucky to break even, and if he didn't watch out he would find himself in debt to his employer for the simple necessities of life.

Another stunt, popular with lumber companies, was to pay by checks which were dated 30, 60 and 90 days ahead. These could be cashed only at a ruinous discount. Time after time labor managed to get enacted laws to remedy these abuses, only to see the courts knock them out. A Missouri judge declared that a law requiring mines and factories to pay in cash was "class legislation." A learned brother on the Indiana bench decreed that a law requiring that workers be paid weekly, in cash, interfered with the worker's freedom of contract. And in California a judge knocked out a similar law with the remark that "the workman of intelligence is treated like an imbecile."

Protective laws dealing with working conditions fared similarly. The New York supreme court ruled out a law which tried to abolish the notorious cigar sweatshop in East Side tenements, saying that "it cannot be perceived how the cigarmaker is to be improved in his health or his morals by forcing him from his home and its hallowed associations and beneficent influences, to ply his trade elsewhere."

How any judge who had ever been beyond the cloistered dignity of his own judicial retreats could have

SURE WAY TO STOP COUGHING

This Prescription Relieves Almost Instantly.

Coughing is usually due to causes which patent medicines and cough syrups do not reach. However, Thoxine, a famous doctor's prescription relieves coughing with the very first swallow. It works on an entirely different theory, has a double action, relieves the irritation and goes direct to the internal cause.

Unlike most cough medicines, Thoxine contains no chloroform, dope, or other harmful drugs. Safe for the whole family. Also excellent for sore throat. Quick relief guaranteed or your money back. 35c, 60c and $1.00. Sold by Rowland's Pharmacy and all other good drug stores.—Adv.

ABE MARTIN

Th' trouble with a presidential landslide is that a lot o' fourth raters are drawn in by th' momentum. Mr. an' Mrs. Lile Spar's maid spent th' week end with 'em.

made that remark about the "hallowed associations and beneficent influences" of a tenement sweatshop is something for your imagination to wrestle with.

Similarly, as recently as 1905 the U. S. supreme court destroyed the New York bakeshop law, remarking that "clean and wholesome bread does not depend on whether the baker works but 10 hours a day or 60 hours a week." And this in the face of all that we have learned about the effects of over-fatigue on observance of sanitary regulations!

There is a very revealing item in Mary Beard's "History of the American Labor Movement." Discussing labor's attitude toward the slavery question in the decade preceding the Civil War, she says:

"Some labor leaders refused to grow excited about slavery. More than one of them said that the negro slave was better off than the starving wage worker. In this they did but echo the view of southern slave owners, who held that masters provided good food and clothing for their slaves and took care of them in sickness and old age; while under the factory system workers were paid just enough to live on, and turned out to starve in hard times and in their old age."

Imagine, if you can, what the workingman's lot must have been like when responsible, intelligent men, with a first-hand knowledge of conditions, could actually argue that a slave was really better off!

The plain fact of the matter is that the workingman, in those "good old days," had a tough time of it. His pay was miserably low, he was hamstrung in his efforts to raise it, his job was always insecure and it was impossible for him to better the conditions under which he worked.

TOMORROW: What the "good old days" meant to women and children.
